Hawaii should only seek to make treaties where she will obtain tangible advantages: twould she be the gainer by negotiating a treaty at the present time with China? She can regulate the introduction of Chinese at the present time, better without a treaty than with one. legit well in check if the law is carried out as it should be, and no foreigner of good morals need four anything from it: that it has reached the proportions at has, is due unitarily to the lack of self assertion on the part of the members, of the Board of Health, and to the willful, may even criminal neglect of the Premier?

We see that a suggestion is put forth that the Hawaiian Government should make a trouty with China; there is certainly need to consider such a proposition most currefully. The making of treatise is a very grave proceeding for any country, especially is it so with small and weak power is the Hawaii. In making a treatise advantage, the apparent acception being when an inequality prevails on the sale of the more considerable power; but even here the advantage is way apparent; for no considerable power grants such a treaty without tooking to ulterior results; when Richelien concluded a treaty with Gustavus Adolphus, the advantage from the mere signilations of that document seemed all on the side of the weaker power, as a fact, however, in the great struggle with Austra, the real advantage lay with France and not with Sweden.

Hawaii should only seek to make treaties where she will obtain tangible advantages; which can bring the Freenier. The Ministry than the real advantage have with China? She can regulate the introduction of Chinese at the present time with China? She can regulate the introduction of Chinese at the present time with China? The carred the China? She carred the China?
